

Civil Rights, Students & 1968: Where are we Today?

Theresa
El-Amin

Ruby
Sales

◀ A sit-in at the Woolworth's counter in Greensboro from 1960.

Please join us as we celebrate Black History Month by taking a step into the past with three former organizers of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). SNCC was formed in response to the Greensboro sit-ins as a way to support those students in the movement. Steve Crump, local news anchor and documentary film maker will moderate a panel led by Theresa El-Amin. Theresa began her civil rights leadership work with SNCC in Tuskegee and Atlanta in 1966. Ruby Nell Sales and Isaac Coleman will join Theresa as they speak of their experiences during the 1960's and detail the strategies that provided the foundation for organizing communities into effective social action.

Tuesday, Feb. 26
11 am - 12:15 pm
Pease Auditorium

This is a free event to all in the CPCC community and classes are encouraged to attend. For more information please contact Student Life at (704) 330-6584.

Central Piedmont Community College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution. Auxiliary aids will be made available for individuals with disabilities upon ten working days in advance
